Kigen A New Beginning

Joan B Mirviss is presenting approximately 35 new works by the Japanese artist Mihara Ken (b. 1958). Mihara's style is the culmination of a thoughtful dialogue between the artist and clay, his chosen medium. Using materials from his native Shimane prefecture, Mihara constructs each work through an organic creative process. This New York show marks the debut of his new series titled Kigen, marking his departure from shapes based on ancient prototypes to forms borne strictly from his own imagination.
