

SEPTEMBER EXHIBITIONS IN NEW YORK

Fall is (un)officially here, and this week marks the launch of the New York art season. We have compiled a list of new shows presented by The Winter Show exhibitors in the upcoming month as well as museum exhibitions around New York. From American masterpieces to Japanese ceramics and Old Master paintings, there is something to explore for everyone.

TEMPEST

September 14 - October 20, 2023

39 East 78th Street, Suite 401, New York City

Solo exhibition showcasing the captivating new sculptures by artist Fujikasa Satoko. Inspired by tumultuous oceans and boundless skies, Fujikasa explores untamed climatic facets, resulting in commanding sculptures that add a fresh dimension to her dynamic creativity. Reminiscent of surging clouds and crashing waves, her sculptures transcend clay boundaries and bridge the gap between craftsmanship and fine art, surpassing geographical confines.
